Guarantor

If you are still studying, not fulfilling the income requirement or you have your own company, a landlord can sometimes ask for a guarantor. This is usually a family member which earns enough to be your guarantor during your rental period.

Would you be able to have a guarantor? : _____

If this is a wish of the lessor, we will request the documents for this at a later stage

Other questions?

Do you have children which will move with you, if so, how many children and from which ages?

: _____

Pets?

If yes, how many pets and which kind of pets? : _____

For which reason are you looking for a new home? : _____

- I have truthfully filled in all the information
- I agree to have a credit check done by Ben Housing. The landlord of the house you want to rent wants to know if there is sufficient financial capacity to rent the house in question. After the check has been carried out, the report will immediately be destroyed as described in our privacy statement.
- I authorize Ben Housing to give my name and telephone number to Easy Nuts so that they can contact me to take out an interesting subscription for gas, water, light and internet.

If you are looking for a new home with someone else you want to receive the documents from you as well as your partner/roommate:

Do you have paid employment?

- A short letter to the landlord where you pronounce yourself briefly to the landlord;
- A color copy of your passport; please cover your passport photo!
- 3 copys of your most recent salary slips
- Copy of your most recent annual statement
- An employment statement
- Copy of your working contract
- A statement of your current landlord (if applicable) which states you have had no rental debt, or a mortgage statement from your bank
- Bankstatement of the last 3 months which shows your salary and your paid rent or mortgage
- If you need a guarantor, we need to receive 3 salary slips and a colour copy of the passport of the guarantor. If the guarantor is married we also need to receive a colour copy of the passport from his or her partner.

Are you studying?

- A short letter to the landlord where you pronounce yourself briefly to the landlord;
- A color copy of your passport; please cover your passport photo!
- If you receive study financing, we need to receive some bank statements
- A prove of the study you are following
- From the guarantor: we need to receive 3 salary slips and a colour copy of the passport of the guarantor. If the guarantor is married we also need to receive a colour copy of the passport from his or her partner.

Do you have your own company?

- A short letter to the landlord where you pronounce yourself briefly to the landlord;
- A colour copy of your passport; please cover your passport photo!
- "Proof Kamer of Koophandel"
- Approved year pieces and an actual balance and a profit and loss account
- If you are not working for yourself for a minimum period of 3 years you need to have a guarantor.
- We need to receive 3 salary slips and a colour copy of the passport of the guarantor. If the guarantor is married we also need to receive a colour copy of the passport from his or her partner.

Please send you(r) documents as quickly as possible with the filled in form to info@benhousing.nl with mentioning of the address your applying for.

After receiving your documents we will pronounce you with the landlord and let you know a.s.a.p. if you can rent the apartment or not. We can only pronounce you when all of your documents and your form are complete.
